Navy Reports Subs Sink 16 More Jap Ships

More Supply Vessels Of Japanese Sent Down In Pacific Ocean

BRINGS TOTAL TO FIFTY FOR MONTH

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—

Twenty-six hours after disclosure of America's great sea-air victory over the Jap fleet near the Philippines, the navy announced today that American submarines have sunk 16 more Japanese supply vessels.

Included in the latest successes are long-range undersea craft in Pacific and Far Eastern waters were 11 medium cargo vessels, four small cargo ships and one medium naval auxiliary.

Fifty This Month

The latest sinkings raised to 50 the number of Japanese vessels sunk by submarines this month and to 774 the total sunk, probably sunk and damaged by the U. S. undersea fleet since the outbreak of war.

This latest blow at Japan's communication lines was considered important in view of the disclosure by the navy that nearly 100 carriers by the world's most powerful carrier task force now are roaming the Pacific and threatening to strike at the Japanese mainland.

Navy Secretary James Forrestal said recently that U. S. submarines also played a part in locating the Jap fleet off the Philippines and paved the way for a carrier plane blow which resulted in the sinking of one Jap carrier, 3 tankers, and damage to 10 other ships early this week.

PA NEWC Observes

Mrs. Frank DeBore of the Savannah road reports to Pa. Newc that he picked 13 green peppers in her garden last night.

Some sections of the county which had missed the full benefit of recent rains, welcomed the general downpour which occurred this morning. Some spots were beginning to be in need of a good shower.

Victory gardening in New Castle and Lawrence County seems to be on as extensive a scale this year as during the preceding year. And the garden plots are being well cultivated. A tremendous yield of food-stuff will come from the gardening efforts in the city and county this year, which will give real aid in the war winning effort.

Pa. Newc is informed that quite a number of former gas stations and roadside stands throughout the district have been converted into living quarters for families during this war era. Many of them have been made into quite comfortable homes, the report says.

In a letter to The News, a New Castle resident suggests that it would (Continued on Page Two)

Huge Scope Of War Being Emphasized By Latest Attacks

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for N. S.)

NEW YORK, June 23.—Successful invasion of Normandy and the great naval victory in the Pacific gave a dramatic picture today of the scope and meaning of "global war" as conducted by the allied forces.

However, few people realize that the global front has been actually in existence ever since immediately after Pearl Harbor and that it has at all times been controlled and synchronized by a supreme command.

Seven Offensives

On the global front today where there are not less than seven recognized United Nations offensives in operation, actually there are eight, or even nine. And of the total, all but one are being pressed by the allies.

The following offensives are being fought at this time on the left flank—Europe—by the allies: First, of greatest importance is the battle for the Normandy beachhead. However, the climax of that combat has passed and that area is securely in the hands of the allies. Second is the night and day air offensive against Axis Europe. The world has marveled at its intensity and ferocity.

Latest Defeat Of Jap Naval Power To Shorten War

Strategy Of U. S. Offense In Pacific May Be Changed By Latest Naval Victory

JAP FLEET AGAIN TAKES TO HIDING

By RICHARD V. HALLER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, June 23.—

The crushing defeat inflicted on a mighty Japanese Imperial fleet task force in the epic battle of the eastern Philippines may have effected an immediate change today in the strategy of the powerful United States Pacific fleet—a change which may materially shorten the Pacific war.

The nature of any switch in over-all strategy naturally would remain a secret, but it was no secret that history's greatest armada, including nearly 100 U. S. aircraft carriers, is on the prowl for the Jap fleet.

Mighty Soviet bombardment groups, supported by strong tank and infantry forces, opened their assault against the Germans along a 75-mile front in White Russia, according to the Nazi agency DNB.

There was no immediate confirmation from Moscow of the opening of the promised offensive which the Germans said was begun yesterday, the third anniversary of Hitler's ill-starred surprise attack against the Russians on June 22, 1941.

Reports Naval Units Battle In Channel

LONDON, June 23.—(INS)—An American flier reported today that a night battle was fought by naval units in the English Channel.

The airman, Staff Sgt. Robert A. Abraham, of Chicago, the gunner aboard a Liberator returning from a mission over France, said: "We saw a naval battle going on in the Channel. Two fleets of warships were going hammer and tongs tonight. It looked as though one fleet was cornered."

Key Points Are Bombed By R. A. F.—Yards At Reims And Loon Blasted

NAZI FIGHTERS MORE NUMEROUS

By JOSEPH THOMAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 23.—Key points in German-controlled French railway system, including rail yards at Reims and Loon, were blasted during the night by Royal Air Force heavy bombers, the air ministry announced today.

Block-buster laden Mosquitos attacked the Port of Hamburg, and other craft of the British bomber command mined German-controlled waters.

The mission of the R. A. F. heavyweights was to destroy enemy rolling stock and block the movement of German traffic through railway junctions beside the yards.

Huge Lancasters carried out the Reims attack while big Halifaxes bombed the yards at Loon.

U. S. Bombers Hit Jap Convoy

At Least One Jap Vessel Sunk In Attack By MacArthur's Airmen

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, June 23.—American airmen maintained persistent attacks today against enemy bases on Palau to New Ireland after attacking a 15-ship Japanese convoy and sinking at least one Jap vessel.

The attack was launched against the enemy flotilla by land-based bombers of Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney's Fifth Air Force. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters revealed.

The convoy was attacked in the waters near Palau in the Carolines. Another enemy ship—a coastal vessel—was sunk to the bottom off Timor, and three heavily-laden cargo barges were sunk in Geelink Bay, Dutch New Guinea, when light United States naval units crushed an apparent attempt by the Japs to evacuate their beaten forces on Biak island.

Also in the Geelink bay region, U. S. heavy bombers again raided Jap bivouacs and supply areas at Nunor, starting fires near the airfield there and causing several explosions.

The key Japanese bases of Truk, in the Carolines, and Rabaul, on New Britain, again came in for telling attacks by Allied aircraft.

Bombers dropped 95 tons more of high explosives on Rabaul's Vunakanau airfield and Japanese defense installations near Rabaul's airport, and "targets of opportunity" were blasted by Allied patrollers sweeping the Bougainville coast.

Lieutenant Paige Back With Family

McKEESPORT, Pa., June 23.—(INS)—Medal of Honor winner Mitchell Paige "sneaked" into town early today and surprised no one but himself.

His wife, mother and father and at least 1200 other people lined the tracks at the railroad station at 2 a. m. to shout their greetings to "Mitch," who hitch-hiked to Baltimore eight years ago to join the marines and returned today as a first lieutenant and one of the two living enlisted marines to win the nation's highest award, the coveted Congressional Medal of Honor.

Red Forces Advance In Three Pronged Assault Behind Aerial Onslaughts

TRANSPORT LINES HEAVILY BOMBED

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, June 23.—Finnish defense forces dropped back today in continued retreats before onrushing Soviet armies pressing forward in a three-pronged assault behind crippling aerial onslaughts.

Soviet bombers, credited with destruction of more than 450 Finnish vehicles heavily laden with Finnish troops and vitally needed supplies, hammered constantly at the Finnish forces.

Stormovik dive-bombers and Russian level bombers poured their high explosives upon motor transport columns and upon trucked railway stations.

The Finns were falling back steadily on all sectors before the relentless advance of mighty Soviet Legions which were pressing a triphased campaign to knock Finland out of the war.

In their drive beyond fallen Viipuri toward the Finnish capital of Helsinki, the Russian armored and infantry forces drove the enemy from a number of inhabited localities, including the railway station and town of Tali.

To the northeast, the Soviet troops "broke the enemy's resistance" on the Annus isthmus—between Lakes Onega and Ladoga—and widened their bridgehead on the northern bank of the Svir river.

Kohima-Imphal Highway Cleared Of Japanese Now

KANDY, Ceylon, June 23.—(INS)—Japanese forces, which at one time held the entire stretch of the Kohima-Imphal highway in eastern India, were reported today to have been completely cleared from that important road.

The announcement at Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters that the enemy had been swept clear of the highway came shortly after British and Indian troops intensified their drive against the Japs which held positions in a 10-mile gap between the two converging Allied forces.

At one time during their pincer drive, the Allies made a 14-mile gain in a single day.

Meanwhile, in northern Burma Chinese forces skirted around Mogaung to link up with British chindits, thus virtually cutting the enemy bastion off completely. The Chinese troops then captured a small village one-half mile south of Mogaung, and established a road block on the railway from that point to India.

Fighting of fierce intensity is in progress, DNB reported. Reconnaissance reports, said the Nazi agency, indicated that the offensive now will spread south and north.

The present aim on the initial thrust, according to the Germans, appears to be a Soviet smash across the Dvina river into the Baltic countries.

Official confirmation may not be forthcoming from the Russians for some time, if the reported offensive has been launched in accordance with Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin's policy of withholding communications on important actions until a decisive victory has been won.

peninsula which, in spite of past pessimistic opinion, is now destroying Japanese divisions. Fourth is the offensive against Finland which will liberate Sweden, endanger all Nazi troops in Norway and possibly collapse the entire left flank of the German fighting line in the east.

And fifth on the left flank, or the war in the west, must be remembered, the continuing offensive action fought by the Yugoslavian partisans under Marshal Tito.

Only On Defense In China

The only offensive against us is now being fought in China by strong Japanese forces operating in several columns against the unbeatable legions of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. That offensive is being successful only because we cannot get war supplies and heavy weapons in sufficient quantities to the gallant leader of the nationalistic China.

The allied offensives on the right flank commence first with the continuing assaults against the Japanese in the India-Burma area where gallant British and United States leaders have waged a successful war over the most difficult terrain in the world.

Second, and of greatest importance is Admiral Nimitz's thrust at Saipan and the Marianas. For the moment that has passed a climax and the victory is ours. Nevertheless, that most westerly penetration in the central Pacific area marked the commencement of a new allied offensive strategy and it has also marked the commencement of a new Nipponese defensive strategy. War events of tremendous consequence are commencing to show themselves in that area.

Three, the continuous air assaults against the Nipponese islands in the northern, eastern, central and southwestern Pacific area, together with the now very frequent task force assaults must be regarded as, in effect, a major offensive operation.

Fourth, it should never be forgotten that since the desperate fighting at Guadalcanal, General Douglas MacArthur has conducted a continuous major offensive. At the moment it is quiescent, but only because he is preparing for new and greater blows.

That definitely makes the score of the initiative-offensive action—nine to one in favor of the United Nations.

LATEST DEFEAT OF JAP NAVAL POWER TO SHORTEN WAR

up with part of that great carrier force Monday when 14 of the Japs' precious ships were sunk or damaged.

Here is the way some navy experts sum up the fatal dilemma confronting the enemy fleet:

"If the Japs do come out they know well they'll slaughter them, opening a direct seaway to Japan proper."

"The sounder strategy for them is to keep pulling back. We hope they change their minds."

"Of course, it won't make any difference in the long run."

Disclose Huge U. S. Fleet

(The navy department in Washington disclosed the existence of a great new Pacific fleet striking force—known as task force 58—the most mobile strategic air force yet seen in warfare. It was this tremendous force, comprising nearly 100 aircraft carriers, screened by numerous battleships, cruisers and destroyers, that hit a major segment of the Jap fleet at dusk Monday.

"The navy report on task force 58, part of Admiral Raymond A. Spruance's fifth fleet, said:

"So powerful is the protection afforded this force by the anti-aircraft artillery of the escorting battleships, cruisers and destroyers that the entire Pacific ocean to the gates of Japan is its stamping ground. Thus it has become the most mobile strategic air force yet seen in warfare."

Fourth of Jap Fleet

The enemy fleet which was soundly defeated by hundreds of carrier planes from task force 58 probably represented one-fourth of the Jap imperial fleet. It consisted of four or five battleships, five or six carriers, five fleet tankers and attached cruisers and destroyers.

Sunk in the historic battle were one Jap carrier of the Hayataka class and three tankers. Ships heavily damaged included a battleship, three carriers, a cruiser, three destroyers and two tankers.

With this force, the Japs believed they could prevent the loss of their important Mariana Island base of Saipan, the southern portion of which, including the vital Asito airfield, is securely in the hands of United States marines and army troops who now are exerting heavy pressure northward on what remains of the initial enemy garrison of more than 20,000 troops.

Land Based Air Cover

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, explained that the airborne forces land-based air cover for the American amphibious forces on Saipan and also patrol searches into the Pacific by the land-based aircraft, relieving Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's carrier planes of these duties.

Meanwhile, on Saipan the U. S. marines and army troops pressed forward more than a mile northward along the shore of Maricao Bay to the town of Laulau and a similar distance up Mt. Tapochau in the center of the island.

Once Mt. Tapochau is reduced the American ground forces will have easier going since they then will command the northern slopes of the Jap lines and place the island's principal city of Garapan in jeopardy. Garapan, with an estimated population of 10,000, is situated half way up the west coast of the 13-mile long island.

Will Take Long Time To Drive Nazis From France

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(INS)—President Roosevelt again bluntly emphasized today that the Allied world must realize that it will take a long time to oust the Germans from France and terminate the war in Europe.

The chief executive said that the operations on the Cherbourg peninsula are going according to schedule, but that the area of France now occupied by General Eisenhower's armies is only one-tenth of one per cent of the total area occupied by Germany in that country.

Bluntly, Mr. Roosevelt then asserted:

It is going to take a long time to get the Germans out of France.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement was at variance with one made several days ago by Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who made an optimistic prediction that the war in Europe probably would be wound up within the next few months.

Small Girl Takes Walk In Sleep On Wilmington Road

Walking in the rain is a pastime many people enjoy, but walking in the rain in your sleep is something a little different. More especially if you are only seven years of age.

It happened early this morning to little Miss Gay Reese, age seven. Sometime, no one is sure just when, the little miss got out of bed, picked up two dresses and a pair of socks and walked out of her father's home just beyond the New Castle Country club. Fast asleep she started down the Wilmington road in the rain until she came to house occupied by a Morgan family.

Gay awoke about this time, changed from her pajamas to a dress and started to walk to the home of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Reese who lives nearer town. A passing motorist gave her a lift to the home of her mother. Her mother was startled to see her but delighted she had suffered no injuries from her somnambulist hike.

Financial Editor Of Sun-Telegraph Taken By Death

PITTSBURGH, June 23.—Two staff members of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph died of heart attacks today; the financial editor and a photographer who had just completed covering the return home of Marine Hero Mitchell Patke.

The financial editor, James Pierce Egan, 51, a veteran of 33 years in the newspaper business and an authority on the stock and bond markets, had been away from his desk since last June due to illness. His father, Patrick S. Egan, once wrote sports for the Pittsburgh Times. Egan leaves his wife and two children.

AROUND CITY HALL

City Patrolman Peter Hillers today reported to police headquarters that there are some planks on the bridge over the Shenango river in West Washington street. The county has the responsibility of keeping up bridges.

Mayor John P. Haven today reported that Chief of police Robert D. Hanna has assigned detectives to not stop until they have apprehended Dean park vandals. According to police headquarters they broke a sand-box, table, cut flag-pole ropes and removed bolts from See-Saws and the sliding-board.

It was announced today that possibly half a dozen roaming dogs have been shot to death by the police and dog-catcher since Chief Robert D. Hanna gave to police the order "Shoot roaming dogs on sight." His order resulted from canine attacks which caused rabies to humans. Any person who has a dog he values had better tie it up else he is apt to hear the discharge of a revolver or shotgun and upon investigation discover that the "dog he liked so well, but didn't think sufficiently of to protect" has been killed.

Answer To A Question

One of the big questions before the invasion of France concerned the manner in which American troops who never had been in battle would react to actual combat conditions. The Germans undoubtedly counted heavily on the inability of untried American troops to conduct themselves effectively the first time they were in action.

The question now has been answered to the satisfaction of the Allies and the disappointment of the Germans. The dash with which the Americans took Cherbourg peninsula left the Germans dazed and bewildered. The combat-green Americans carried themselves so well that Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, paid them special tribute in a statement to the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes. General Marshall said that the Western Front invasion was perfectly coordinated and that on his recent visit to the battlefield he found evidence of a high standard of leadership throughout.

From every portion of the line where our men were fighting," he said, "came reports of the aggressive action, skill and high morale displayed by the American soldier."

"Those engaging in their first combat carried themselves like the veterans of experienced divisions. This probably was the most reassuring aspect of the operations to us and the most depressing to the enemy."

The performance of American troops in their baptism of fire speaks volumes for the hard training they received both in the United States and in Britain. It is true in war there is no substitute for experience, but efficient training goes a long way toward providing it.

Aiding Postwar Enterprise

To enable discharged service men as well as demobilized war workers to reestablish themselves in a postwar world, the Reader's Digest announces a $25,000 prize contest "for ideas for little businesses for returning veterans." The magazine, in offering to serve as a clearing house for practical new ideas along this line, explains that it believes many thousands of such Americans will want to establish small enterprises of their own in communities all over the nation where postwar opportunity will present itself.

It generally is anticipated that when the war is over the period of worldwide reconstruction will call for universal economic readjustment, particularly in the United States, which has revolutionized itself industrially in response to the demands of war production. The Baruch carry-over plan stresses the necessity of relaxation of federal control of industry and its return to private operation.

This focuses attention on the reestablishment of industry along traditional lines of American enterprise. It should mean the restoration of small business—now more or less a wartime pack-beater—to the status of economic recognition it always has rated as the backbone of national enterprise.

A resurgence of small business along new lines may play a vital role in the nation's postwar economic transition. Not only will it offer a ready answer to the question of readjusted employment, but it will serve in reestablishing the American industrial structure. Men and women from the services and war plants will bring new skills, new vision and new enthusiasm to waiting postwar opportunity. There will be new horizons of challenge to stepped-up American enterprise. The situation will call for broad-gauge planning—by the business men not by federal job-holders.

Halsey's New Assignment

Some weeks ago the removal of Admiral William F. Halsey as commander of Allied naval forces in the South Pacific gave rise to speculation that he might be destined for an administrative post ashore, a job that would tie him down to a desk and take away from active sea duty one of the most effective naval leaders of the war.

Admiral Halsey's new orders have put an end to such speculation and allayed all fears of his being shifted to a desk job. By his exploits in the South Pacific Admiral Halsey worked himself out of a job in that area, but he is by no means through as a combat officer.

An announcement by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific commander-in-chief, says that Admiral Halsey, because of the relative quiet in the South Pacific area, has been given command of the Third Fleet, which will operate in the Pacific. It will work in the same way as the Fifth Fleet under Admiral Raymond A. Spruance, which has missed few actions against the Japanese in recent months.

It is good news that Admiral Halsey will continue with a fighting command in the Pacific—good news, that is, not to the Japanese but to the American people and the men of the fleet, to whom he is a symbol of daring and great naval skill.

It also is good news to Admiral Halsey himself, who was afraid of just one thing—that the war might be brought to a close before he could strike Japan.

Bacon And Eggs

Grocers cooperating with the War Food Administration have for several weeks been emphasizing the importance of using bacon and eggs liberally in the family diet. Naturally the outstanding reason for this emphasis is the plenitude of these staples.

There is almost no limit to the variety with which these foods can be served. Together they make a typical American dish, good at any meal. Separately their uses are bounded only by the covers of any good cook book.

When one talks of bacon and eggs, he cannot help but reminisce about good meals he has known. It may have been that morning after the night before in a swamp during a canoe trip into the deep woods. How good those bacon and eggs tasted when we finally got our directions straightened out! Again there was a visit to a big city restaurant, famous for its cuisine. Bacon and eggs headed the bill of fare.

And, don't we all remember those famous breakfasts of mother, with their crisp bacon and sunny-side-up eggs—eggs taken from the henhouse that very morning.

Sell bacon and eggs? In America, we don't have to. They're taken for granted.

The French, landing in Elba, might have remarked, "Napoleon, we are here."

The propensity of ancient tires to pop on hot roads may slow speeders to a standstill.

Apple pie doubtless was glad to hear that several types of cheese are no longer on the ration list.

There is no point in delaying plunking down $5 for that federal auto use stamp, as they won't get any cheaper.

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Finnish Plight

WASHINGTON, June 23—Eric Johnston, in Moscow, pushed into the foreground the biggest single reality on the international horizon. The Russians are going to need American machines to rebuild the Soviet Union, and American manufacturers are going to want those orders.

That reality will outweigh a great deal of talk on both sides of the collaboration issue. What will happen after Russia has been rebuilt is another matter. But for the immediate future—twenty to thirty-five years perhaps—the foundation will rest on mutual advantage.

Already millions of dollars in Russian orders have been entered on the books of big American firms. The goods will be delivered when peace-time production is started again. And this is only a small beginning.

Against this reality, the teacup tempest in Washington over dismissal of the Finnish diplomats looks silly indeed. It is, of course, serving the purpose of those who would like to divide the Allies.

Set Up Loud Outcry
The same people who went to dinner with Hjalmar Procopé, the Finnish minister, and shuddered with him over Russian "barbarism," are now setting up a loud outcry. Procopé conceived it his duty to turn as many people as possible against Russia and for Finland and he did it with a glad-handing fervor that was positively American.

Perhaps, if he had been less successful, he and his two counselors of legation would not have been sent on their way. All sorts of disgruntled people—the anti-British, and the anti-Russians, and the anti-administration crowd—turned up at Finnish dinner tables. Gossip about the war was the medium of exchange.

It's just possible that Procopé got the idea these people represented all of American opinion. If he sent word back to his government that Americans were opposed to collaboration with Russia, then he did his country a great disservice.

According to reports reaching here, the Finnish people have not been informed of the true course of the war. A drastic censorship has blacked out much information from the outside world.

At no time have the people been allowed to know how serious was the plight of their little country, caught between two great warring powers on the Baltic. They believed the Finnish position to be more secure and the possibility of American intervention in their behalf far more likely than actually was the case.

That was one reason the Soviet peace terms of two months ago were rejected. Of course they were harsh terms. But what will happen now threatens to be far more harsh. When the Russians offered their terms, the state department tried in a friendly way to persuade the stalwart forest people to lay down their arms. So did the Swedes, even King Gustav throwing his weight on the side of peace.

Finnish Stubborn
The Finns said no. They are stubborn. Their stubbornness is at the same time their strength and their weakness.

In their lonely northern land of forests and lakes, they forged an admirable civilization. The Soviet attack of 1939 touched off a chain of consequences not yet ended. One thing is certain, and that is that the world will be the poorer if that civilization is destroyed.

Great concern is felt in Sweden over the real possibility that several hundred thousand Finnish refugees may seek safety as the Russian armies draw nearer to Helsinki. Already 40,000 Finnish children are being fed and housed in addition to nearly 50,000 refugees from Norway, Denmark, Germany and other countries under the heel of dictatorship. Apart from the mere physical difficulties, a mass invasion would for the first time give Sweden a military problem.

When I was in Sweden a year ago, many people spoke of their fear of Russian aggression. Yes, Sweden's leading capitalist told me he was preparing to take his Russian orders.

"You can't," he said. "Ignore a country of 2,000,000 people."

That is the same kind of common sense spoken by Eric Johnston.

What Effect Willkie?

WASHINGTON, June 23—Now THAT Mr. Willkie's series of seven articles telling the Republican party what it must do to be saved have been concluded, it is in order to speculate upon their effect, if any. As a matter of fact, Mr. Willkie has not changed a thing. The situation is just as it was before he began to expound.

THIS IS not because some of his stuff was not good. Much of it was. Much of it, too, will be incorporated in both the Republican and Democratic platforms, not because Mr. Willkie presented it, but because nearly all thoughtful men in both parties have been thinking along those lines. It is not likely that the men who will dominate the Republican convention next week will be diverted from these lines by the somewhat patronizing manner in which Mr. Willkie points out their duty. Nor will they be coerced into accepting as a whole every Willkie suggestion for fear they may lose the Willkie support.

IT IS an interesting and significant fact that the applause for Mr. Willkie's pieces came largely from the fourth-term promoters and publicists one of whom is Mrs. Roosevelt. That lady showered a number of kind words upon the author and wrote about some of his points in her most gracious manner. Others referred to Mr. Willkie as a "great liberal statesman." Those who know him best are well aware that there is nothing Mr. Willkie likes more than to be called "a great liberal statesman." From others—a fourth-termers—it was pointed out that the Republicans would deserve to lose if they failed to take Mr. Willkie's advice; that if they refused to follow his leadership, they could make no appeal to the "liberal elements" of the country, would, in fact, have branded themselves as reactionaries and reverted to the standards of the Harding days.

PERHAPS there are some gullible enough not to recognize this kind of bunk for what it is, but most persons will see it as an obvious attempt upon the part of the fourth-termers to embarrass the Republicans and encourage the idea that Mr. Willkie may not support the nominee of their convention. Of course, no realist in politics has any doubt as to what Mr. Willkie will do in the end. He will support the Republican candidate—Governor Dewey—because there just will be nothing else for him to do. The Republicans already are committed in their Mackinac conference to the great principle of full post-war international cooperation, which Mr. Willkie has proclaimed all over the land as of overshadowing importance. Governor Dewey personally has taken an unequivocal stand on this subject, fully as forthright as Mr. Willkie's own.

ON DOMESTIC affairs there seems little difference between Mr. Willkie and any of the other leading Republicans, except that it is charged his disposition is slightly more New Dealish than theirs. Some think he has been led in this direction largely by his own desire to be thought well of by the professional liberals, though none of these was with him in 1940 and none would have been with him had he been nominated against Mr. Roosevelt this time. Aside from that, however, neither the Republican candidate nor the Republican platform will provide Mr. Willkie with an excuse to bolt on a matter of principle. That can be set down as sure. And unless his conscience should be involved there is no way for him to justify failure to support. Certainly his own candidacy bars him from accepting the fourth-term argument about changing horses in the middle of the stream.

MR. WILLKIE will not find in Chicago that the Republicans have adopted his platform wholly, but he will find that the platform is one to which he can raise slight objection and one upon which if he had been nominated he would have been able to stand. It is true he does not like Governor Dewey personally, but neither does he like Mr. Roosevelt personally. And there are a good many more people he does not like personally these days, including some who were very strongly for him when he ran in 1940. In this campaign he will have only one alternative to wholehearted support of the Republican candidate and that is grudging and reluctant support. And if he dilly dallies too long, it will not make a great deal of difference so far as the result is concerned which he chooses.

IT OF COURSE, is unthinkable that after aspiring for the nomination and missing it he should entirely withhold support from the nominee. That would stamp him as one of the worst soreheads and poorest sports in political history. No clear-headed person has ever thought he would do that, which makes long delay in coming out unfortunate from his standpoint. Most of his friends feel that way about it. As to his platform suggestions, certainly his party could be more courageous and more concrete on two domestic issues. One is union labor; the other taxes. On the latter subject, which is concededly pretty vital, no one could be more vague and evasive than Mr. Willkie. Presumably he still favors $16,000,000 increased taxes, but he has yet to say how he proposes to raise the money, which, after all, is a rather important point.

Washington Report

Roosevelt And Churchill To Meet Again
Early Conference Between Two Predicted
News Reporters Were Alert To Invasion

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, June 23—Now that the European invasion is under way, time should run fast toward the next meeting between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

An early conference is in the cards, observers believe, on the basis of the history of the Allied leaders' program of long range military planning.

The time of the liberation assault on "Festung Europa" (Fortress Europe) was set at the Tehran meeting last winter, they point out.

Baruch in News
The recent news stories, quickly refuted by the White House, to the effect that Bernard M. Baruch had resigned his post-war planning post because of inaction on the part of WPB and other agencies were viewed as a "needing" expedition on the part of the elder statesman.

The stories caused a flurry of excitement in the capital and undoubtedly will stimulate post-war activity aimed at preventing such incidents as occurred at the Brewster airplane plants when thousands went on strike over cancellation of the firm's war contracts without substitute work.

The Office of War Mobilization explained that Baruch had not resigned as adviser to the president, simply that the post-war planning unit he headed was disbanded because its work was finished; namely, the voluminous Baruch-Hancock report charting the transition from war to peace.

However, the reports of Baruch's resignation in a huff will have a salutary effect. The elderly financier gets results in a hurry through such news.

WPB has been moving much too slowly to suit him, although at last the agency has set up its reconstruction unit under WPB Executive Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson, former General Electric chief.

Another recognition of the five-month-old Bolivian regime of Maj. Generalissimo Villarroel may come soon.

A report by Avra Warren, United States ambassador to Panama, after a special mission to La Paz, capital of Bolivia, for Secretary of State Cordell Hull, has been sent by courier to the foreign ministers of the other American republics.

The report is understood to recommend consideration of the fact that Bolivia has recently expelled Axis agents and removed six pro-Axis members of the National revolutionary movement from the cabinet.

Reporters Were Waiting
The War Department's Bureau of Public Relations did not have to notify Washington newsmen to be on hand the night the story broke on the European invasion.

That night representatives of the major wire services, newspapers and radio networks were in the press room at least two hours before the news was released officially.

Reporters began to dash into the press room within a half hour after the German radio flashed the news that the invasion had begun.

Radio carried the German report about 12:30 a. m. It was finally confirmed at 3:32 a. m.

Washington newsmen had waited so long for the "break" that they didn't take any chances that their enemy broadcast might be only a "feeler."

Plan Airports Near Recreation Centers In State

HARRISBURG, June 23.—A string of airports near Pennsylvania's recreational areas to accommodate vacationists when air travel mushroomed after the war was forecast today by Mark S. James, director of the Postwar Planning Commission.

The string for recreational facilities because they have brought into the state many people seeking recreation but who have also found Pennsylvania a good place to be in leisure, he declared.

The proposed airports, constructed by the State Highway Department and financed by postwar reconstruction funds, would be confined to the use of civilian pilots.

Hundreds of childless couples, and many others with growing children of their own, have provided temporary homes for these children, often doing a marvelous job as foster parents. Such is a grand achievement. See the service they render to the child and the community. These foster parents, unless at too great physical strain, generally gain in richness of spirit and personality. In bringing up a child, whether your own or that of some other parent, you are cultivating in yourself great wealth of creativeness. Right now, more than ever before, there is need of more good foster parents. Let those interested get in touch with their local child caring agency.

Romanian Oil Fields Again Under Attack Heaviest Casualties In Merchant Marine

ROME, June 23.—(INS)—Strong forces of American heavy bombers today attacked Romanian oil fields and installations at Ploesti and Giurgiu.

Railway yards at Nis in Yugoslavia, also were hit.

Maj. Herschel Greene, of Mayfield, Ky., shot down his 15th enemy plane in the Ploesti attack, attaining high mark for pilots in the Mediterranean air force theater.

D.N.B. Report Says U. S. Pressure On Cherbourg Grows

LONDON, June 23.—(INS)—American forces have increased their pressure in the Cherbourg area, especially from the south and southeast, against the outer defenses of the port, the Nazi agency DNB said today.

Small forces "trickled in" between German pillboxes, DNB said.

It was asserted that American attempts to crush the main fortifications were repelled.

The regular German high command communicate meanwhile acknowledged that the Yanks had lost a heavy onslaught against Cherbourg yesterday.

"In Normandy the enemy yesterday went over to the attack against the land front of the fortress of Cherbourg, using strong forces," the communicate said.

"Heavy fighting in which the enemy's navy guns and air forces intervened ensued particularly on the southeastern and eastern front of the fortress."

Troops To Receive First Aid Streamers

Felt streamers to be given in recognition of accomplishments at the Boy Scout first aid meets in April have arrived in the Boy Scout office and will be mailed out at once to the troops, Thomas G. Allen, scout executive, said today.

The streamers are red, white, or blue, depending on the standards reached by the troops, rather than on competition between the troops. Eleven groups are to receive blue streamers, ten are to receive red ones, and four will be getting the white ones.

Correspondent Sees Cherbourg Battle From Air

By CLARK LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD AN AIRPLANE OVER THE CHERBOURG FRONT, June 22—(U. S. Staff Correspondent)—The smoke of battle rose into the sky from five or six points in the semicircle of hills around the city of Cherbourg this evening, indicating the places where American infantry was fighting with German defenses for a final breakthrough.

The scene was observed by this correspondent from an American plane as it flew over the Cherbourg battlefield.

Some of the hills appeared nearly stripped of their trees. Others were burning, giving off bright red flames where shell hits had been scored.

From observation it appeared that the assault forces were nearest their goal on the east of the port.

To the south, fighting was in progress in the fresh green wooded hills on both sides of the main highway into Cherbourg.

Because of the smoke of battle it was impossible to make out from the plane, piloted by Lieut. Charles E. Lawrence, of Birmingham, Ala., the extent of damage to the port.

Smoke and dust resulting from smashing artillery and air bombings obscured the view.

Before Lawrence could land his craft in a field, one of the few in the area not studded with anti-aircraft and anti-parachute tree stumps 12 feet high, he had to chase bulls from the field.

The bulls almost got the decision several times, chasing the descending plane over a fence several times until Lawrence buzzed the field.

Enroute to the field those who boarded the plane were attracted by a French flag on a roadside. It was flying over the body of an American, killed by a sniper. His rifle was stuck in the ground by its bayonet and his helmet was on top of the butt. It was encircled by flowers placed there by farmers.

Those aboard Lawrence's plane included Pvt. Vincent Merli, of 1113 Merlin street, Chester, Pa.

Traffic Fatality Record In County Is Not Lowered

Although the state record of fatal traffic accidents during the first four months of 1944 shows a small decline over the same period of last year, the record for Lawrence county remains the same—six last year and six this year.

The record is still the same for the ratio of rural accidents to accidents in the city and boroughs too in spite of the increasing rural average in the state. Four have been killed so far on country highways and two in the cities.

Pedestrian deaths have dropped though again contrary to the state increase in pedestrian deaths. The record is still the same in the cities, two this year and two last, but in the rural areas, it has dropped from three to one. The drop from five to three pedestrian deaths means an increase of two in the number of fatalities caused by automobile collisions, because the total number of deaths is still the same.

Young Woman Dies From Injuries

PITTSBURGH, June 23.—(INS)—Injuries suffered Tuesday night when she was thrown from a roller coaster at Kennywood Park today had caused the death of Mrs. Mary Alice Wilhelm, 21, whose husband, Carl, is serving with the Army overseas.

She was the mother of a 20-month-old daughter, Barbara Ann. Mrs. Wilhelm was said by authorities to have been thrown from the coaster car when it made a sharp turn after failing to stop at the completion of a trip.

Because the beetle can carry a burden 850 times its own weight, it is considered to be the strongest living creature in the world for its weight.

The beetle almost got the decision several times, chasing the descending plane over a fence several times until Lawrence buzzed the field.

Enroute to the field those who boarded the plane were attracted by a French flag on a roadside. It was flying over the body of an American, killed by a sniper. His rifle was stuck in the ground by its bayonet and his helmet was on top of the butt. It was encircled by flowers placed there by farmers.

MEXICAN TALK HAS MAGISTRATE STUMPED

NEW YORK.—(INS)—Magistrate John F. X. Four cases later, they reappeared, and confessed in perfect English that they had just been fooling. The magistrate gave them a suspended sentence.

Hold Police Chief In Fatal Shooting

PITTSBURGH, June 23.—(INS)—A coroner's jury today had recommended Police Chief William Duerr of Stone township be held for grand jury action on manslaughter charges growing out of the fatal shooting of two war workers in a tragic misfiring of a trap for automobile thieves.

Testimony at the inquest into the June 10th episode which cost the lives of Ralph Landefeld of Kennedy township and Edwin Shuler of McKees Rocks established that outside of a police shirt worn by one patrolman, there was nothing to indicate to the victim that the seven plainclothesmen who attempted to stop their car were policemen.

Both men were shot by Duerr. A county detective who took part in the incident testified he had yelled at Duerr: "Don't shoot!" Landefeld and Shuler were shot as they jumped from their car in the early morning hours and ran into a dairy store basement. Landefeld said before he died that he and Shuler had thought it was a hold-up.

A clubman in Sydney, Australia, has complained that he is rationed only two gallons of gasoline, but four gallons of whisky a month.

Babson Directs Advice At Certain Employers

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright 1944, Publishers Financial Corp., Inc.

BABSON has been slain by the "die-hard" Installment Sales.

NEW YORK CITY, June 23.—During the past few weeks I have directed this column to various groups of people—colored workers, white workers, union labor, parents and investors. Permit me this week to give certain employers some good advice. This especially applies to the older men. There are many young forward-looking employers, but the stage is set for the "die-hard" Installment Sales.

As a part of my education, I attended group meetings of various kinds—church, social, scientific, labor and employers. All these groups, with the exception of the latter, have a definite constructive legislative program to make a better nation. We employers, however, present little constructive legislation. We have asked only for "lower taxes and to be let alone." I am sure this is a mistake.

Some economists recently discussed another installment sales—when have temporarily been restricted under presidential orders during war—should be regulated after peace comes. They claim that to stabilize employment, installment purchases should be encouraged during depressions but retarded during booms. This would be sound practice, but what do most employers say? They reply: "No! The government should let us alone to handle our own credits as we deem please."

Accident Compensation

Labor has made an appeal for much more extensive accident compensation laws through a government insurance company. The argument is that employers will hesitate to employ returning soldiers who may have any degree of eyesight, hearing, lameness or otherwise, believing that such persons are more liable to accidents. To encourage employers to employ such, labor leaders urge an extension of industrial insurance. Do most employers agree? No! They insist that the government should "keep hands off" while their insurance friends yell "Communism." Is such an attitude by manufacturers and bankers wise?

Regulating Inventories

Credit men have suggested that legislation be enacted whereby inventories would be regulated in some way. One reason for unemployment is because stocks of raw material and merchandise at times become so large that manufacturers and merchants suddenly stop buying. These credit men claim that normal inventories tend to keep employment normal. But here again, too many employers say "No!" They demand "free enterprise" freedom to inflate or deflate and freedom to speculate or to hoard. Too many of us wait freedom for ourselves without thinking of the other fellow's welfare.

Taxing Unused "Depreciation"

Accountants believe that some regulation should exist between depreciation, replacements and corporation taxes. They say that during a depression employers continue to charge vast sums to depreciation to save taxes, but they do not spend the money. Hence, this policy makes the depression so much worse. They believe that during a depression, when depreciation money is not spent for replacements, it should be taxed, while during a boom, it should be taxed if it is spent. Well, this suggestion has caused some employers to set up a big howl. Perhaps the idea is crazy; but there is no harm in discussing it.

Just one more illustration: Many farsighted insurance men believe it is not healthy for the country to forbid savings banks, life insurance companies and other institutions from buying "equities." To force them to buy so many governments is keeping funds away from small businessmen and homebuilders. "It is O. K.," they say, "to forbid us from buying the stocks of corporations which have bonds outstanding, but in the interest of the public, we should be allowed to invest a certain proportion of our funds in the equities of companies having no debt—especially during depressions." This sounds sane to me. Certainly, this is something that employers could get behind.

The English minister of re-conversion, Lord Woolton, is now considering some very practical recommendations to stabilize unemployment by synchronizing and adjusting public works, exports, investments, taxes, interest charges and railroad rates to business conditions. His plan is to decrease the first three in booms and to increase them in depressions, but to lower them last three in booms and lower them during depressions. I understand that our U. S. Committee on Economic Development is busy making studies. But such studies have been made before. The library of the Department of Labor is full of them. But here is the rub: Too many manufacturers, employers and bankers seldom present these proposed employment aids to congress as definite legislation. Furthermore, if labor submits them, the employers' associations usually fight them. I repeat that too many employers ask only for lower taxes and to be let alone!

Plan To Assist Move To Decrease Delinquency Here

Active participation in the current effort to curb and lower juvenile delinquency was offered by the Federated club of the county Thursday night when a meeting was held in the Polish Falcon hall on Miller avenue.

President Rudy Hermann, as well as other speakers stressed the fact that the club organization had a civic duty to perform in lending every effort possible to such a movement and steps will be taken to assist the proper officers of the county in their efforts. Matters of interest to every club in the organization were discussed and a number of questions settled. President Herman and Secretary Edward Raney were in charge. J. J. McCoy, chairman of the fraternal group in the Fifth War Loan campaign spoke and urged that every club as a unit and every member as an individual get back of the war loan campaign.

PIN-WORMS Now can be Beaten!

The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries, and many doctors have sought a way to deal with this dreadful pest that lives and grows inside the human body. Today, thanks to an important scientific discovery, a new and highly effective treatment is being hailed by medical authorities. It is based on a remarkable drug known as Pin-Worms. This drug is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm tablet developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. J. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.

P-W makes it unnecessary for you or your child to suffer in silence with the embarrassing rectal itch caused by Pin-Worms, or to take chances on the real distress they often create. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to destroy Pin-Worms. So watch for possible warning signs such as: itching seat and nose, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting. If you suspect Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for a package of P-W and follow the simple directions carefully. It is easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Delayed Report On Pacific Battle Gives New Details

By WILLIAM H. WORDEN

ABOARD FLAGSHIP, UNITED STATES FIFTH FLEET, June 21—(Delayed)—Via Navy radio—This huge force today completed the rout of the Japanese grand fleet from waters of the Philippines without firing a salvo from its formidable battle line or losing a ship.

Japanese losses in the two-phased plane versus fleet battle included at least 338 planes downed in an attack on our fleet off Guam, possibly one carrier blown up and another set badly afire when our planes rained bombs and torpedoes on the Jap fleet while it was fleeing towards the shelter of the Philippines in longitude well west of Tokyo.

Our own losses totaled 21 planes in the first phase of the battle and one ship hit but not seriously damaged. In the second phase our plane losses were moderate and the majority of downed crewmen were rescued despite the extra hazardous return to carriers or night landings at sea.

It is believed today that the Japanese fleet has fled behind the Philippines and the threat of ship or sea based plane action against our landing forces at Saipan ended.

The first phase of the battle occurred June 19 when planes and anti-aircraft guns of Admiral Raymond Ames Spruance's fleet within sight of Guam turned a Jap attack into one of the war's greatest disasters for the Axis.

Jap planes attacked from the west in long range flights from carriers, struck the American fleet with the obvious intention of going on to Guam to refuel and then striking the Saipan beach heads and transports from that base.

Prevent Jap Landings

Spruance, however, held his fleet near Guam all day and sent waves of bombers over Guam and Rota, prevented Jap landings there, and made it virtually certain that no planes survived the aerial battle which raged over hundreds of miles of sea.

Jap planes which escaped our fighters and anti-aircraft almost certainly were lost in attempting to return to their carriers which were out of fuel range.

The Jap personnel losses also were almost 100 per cent since the battles took place in areas controlled by Admiral Spruance's fleet and the Japs could make no attempt to rescue pilots who survived sea crashes. Now, with the Jap fleet gone, there is no chance for any pilots left floating in the area except possible capture from the flag-ship.

It naturally was impossible to see all the first phase which was a series of encounters from 10 A. M. until dark, but part of the battle did rage within sight.

The first action was the takeoff of hundreds of American planes into the starry sky, gaining altitude as the Japs were reported approaching. In a few minutes the first black puffs of anti-aircraft fire appeared over battleships on the horizon. Distant ships seemed wreathed in fire as multiple batteries threw up an unbelievable wall of steel.

ALLIED FORCES BLASTING WAY AHEAD IN CITY

tive of surrender or annihilation, fought fanatically from strong point to strong point against an almost unprecedented concentration of steel and high explosive.

Bunched tightly together along the city's outer rim, the Nazis gave way only yard by yard as Allied troops punched and hacked their way through Cherbourg's defenses.

Deep Inside City
In a military sense, Cherbourg is now completely "invested," with American forces deep inside the great ring of fortifications surrounding it and Allied planes dominating the skies.

The British and American navies control all sea approaches to the port and ground assaults are being made from three sides. Despite steadily increasing enemy resistance, Allied forces blasted their way through Cherbourg's fortifications to come within sight of the English Channel.

Communique No. 35 from headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said that the offensive operations against the third greatest port in France were proceeding satisfactorily.

"Offensive action and local attacks have effectively pinned down the enemy formations in the eastern sector of the peninsula," the communique said.

There were indications that the Germans were concentrating the major part of their forces in the port area where Americans are meeting increasingly stronger resistance.

The Americans, under command of Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, were in contact with Nazi troops on the western side of the peninsula and probing for an opening.

On Eastern Side
On the eastern side of the peninsula, forward troops report indications that there were no Germans east of them to the sea.

The possibility was seen that there were some "static" enemy troops in general positions on the eastern sector, but probably all mobile troops have been drawn into the defensive ring around Cherbourg.

A headquarters spokesman said that the Yanks probably are very close to the sea north of captured St. Pierre-Eglise.

Headquarters disclosed that waves of fighter-bombers which prepared the way for advancing ground troops in their all-out offensive

Post War Plans
Begin To Shape

Political Bodies Join Hands
To Work Out Plans For New Castle

Postwar plans in the city are beginning to crystallize and within a short time some definite picture of proposed postwar plans will be available. A long step towards bettering the actual work of planning under way was taken by the civil affairs sub-committee of the post-war planning committee when a meeting was held in The Castleton hotel.

Present at the meeting were County Commissioners Earl R. Wilmer and Karl T. Rohrer, Mayor John F. Haven, City Councilmen Joseph D. Alexander, D. O. Davies, James Gibson and Albert A. Hoyland, School Director Clyde M. Whittaker, C. Ed Smith, Jr., and Roger Jewett, representing the Greater New Castle Association.

Three Questions Involved
Three questions were presented to the various political sub-divisions: 1—Is your political body prepared to sit with the other municipal bodies and draw up a complete civic postwar plan for New Castle? 2—If so, are you prepared to establish a joint informal planning committee or some other form of organization for this purpose? 3—Will you proceed to work on these lines at once?

It was agreed that each of the three political sub-divisions appoint three men to sit as a committee with a representative of the Greater New Castle Association to serve as secretary, to establish a joint informal planning committee or some other form of organization to work out future plans for New Castle.

Mayor and Council
In a letter to the Committee for Economic Development, the parent body of the planning committee, Mayor John F. Haven and the councilmen expressed their views in the following letter.

Dear Sir:
In reply to your communication of June 15, 1944, beg pardon to advise that the city council held a conference regarding your request that the political sub-divisions such as the county commissioner, city council or school board, meet at a joint session and draw up a complete civic postwar plan for New Castle; and expressed their hearty support of such a plan and feel that this is a step farther in the right direction toward the development of a civic program.

However, the council of the city of New Castle wish to be put on record as supporting a project called future planning for the city of New Castle and not postwar planning; and we, the undersigned, are willing to organize with the political sub-divisions for this purpose and co-operate in order that a complete, harmonious civic program may be developed.

We also wish to express our deep gratitude to the Greater New Castle Association for their interest in the future progress of our city.

Respectfully yours,
D. O. Davies, Councilman.
J. D. Alexander, Councilman.
Albert A. Hoyland, Councilman.
James Gibson, Councilman.
John F. Haven, Mayor.

FREEZING GOOD WAY TO PRESERVE PEAS

Where freezer-lockers are available, homemakers will find freezing a satisfactory way to preserve peas. It is easy to freeze peas, and when served, the family will think they are fresh—the color and the flavor of fresh peas is still there.

To have good quality frozen peas, the following suggestions are offered:

1. Use only the best peas at just the right stage for eating fresh. Discard the immature and wrinkled pods.
2. Speed from the garden to the locker is important.
3. Wash the shelled peas in cold water—a strainer is a help.
4. Immerse shelled peas in rapidly boiling water for 1 minute, using at least 1 gallon of water for each pound of vegetable. A cheesecloth square is handy for blanching.
5. Remove peas and immerse in cold water. Blanching helps to retain the food value and color of peas.
6. Drain and pack peas in containers.
7. If peas cannot be put into freezer within an hour after packaging, place containers in the coldest part of the refrigerator or pack in crushed ice.

When ready to cook frozen peas, just open the package, drop into kettle containing about a cup of boiling water, cook until tender season and serve.

More details on freezing vegetables and fruits are given in Circular 252. For a free copy of this circular contact the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle, Pa.

Majority Of WACS
In Fine Health

PITTSBURGH, June 23—(INS)—One of the biggest problems the medical corps finds with members of the WAC is that they're just too healthy!

Maj. Margaret Craighill, consultant for women's health and welfare, attached to the surgeon general's office, said WAC members have bloomed so flourishingly on their army regimen that reducing diets were being set up for the messes.

"When the summer uniforms were taken out this year," Major Craighill smiled, "it was discovered that they had shrunk considerably, because the individuals who wore them last year had put on weight."

The weight-adding tendency she credited to the regular hours, the excellent and plentiful food and the fact that the required physical exercises tapered off after the initial training period.

The first woman medical officer to be commissioned in the army reported that WAC maintains fine general health.

Grocery Report Made
By Price Panel Board

With the third grocery survey completed, the Price Panel Board announces much better compliance with OPA price rules and regulations than during the last survey.

Out of 223 stores, 183 were in full price compliance, the board's report shows. Grocery price violations were seldom more than 1 or 2 cents and most stores had their meat price list and community ceiling prices prominently displayed.

Only 14 of the 104 stores carrying sturgeon steak were in violation of OPA prices, and only 8 out of the 101 which carried ham.

SOCIAL SECURITY—
CHILDREN'S AND WIDOWS' BENEFITS

(No. 5 of a series of six)
"Upon the death of a worker who has the necessary 'quarters of coverage' monthly benefits may be payable to his family," Edward J. Sinder, manager of the New Castle office of the Social Security Board, points out.

"The old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act provide for monthly payments for children under 18 of an insured worker who dies," Mr. Sinder explains. "Also included for benefits are step-children and adopted children, under certain conditions."

"The widow, regardless of her age, may also receive monthly payments while she has such children in her care. The widow's benefit is equal to three-fourths of the worker's primary insurance benefit and each child's is equal to one-half of the 'primary insurance benefit'.

There are limits, however, to the maximum which may be paid on one worker's account.

"As previously explained, widows at age 65 or more may be entitled to monthly benefits, whether or not she has dependent children in her care. A widow who had received benefits because of having a young child in her care may receive monthly benefits upon reaching age 65."

"If a qualified worker dies leaving no widow or child under 18, his dependent parents may receive monthly benefits upon reaching age 65."

"The monthly benefits to children under 18 and to a widow with such children in her care may be payable even if the worker had earned wages of $50 or more in only six quarters out of the 12 calendar quarters just before the quarter in which he died."

The lump sum payable if an insured worker leaves no survivors qualified for monthly benefits will be explained by Mr. Sinder in the next issue of this paper.

If you have any questions about Social Security Act, Mr. Sinder invites you to call at or write to the New Castle office of the Social Security Board, 306 Westharrow avenue, New Castle, Pa.

Fifty Of R. A. F. Captives Shot

Eden Charges Officers Were Murdered By German Government At Prison Camp

LONDON, June 23.—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today branded as "murder" the recent shooting of 50 Royal Air Force officers at a German prisoner of war camp in the Reich.

The officers, originally reported to total 47 but now known to have included 50 men, were put to death after the Germans claimed the air-men resisted recapture following an escape attempt or attempted to effect another escape.

The incident occurred last March at Stalag Luft Three.

It is quite clear these officers were murdered, Eden told the House of Commons.

"The explanation now put forward by the German government is in fact a confession of an odious crime against the laws and conventions of war."

Fifty were shot, Eden explained that the British government had received official word from the German government through the Swiss, acting as protecting power, that 50 instead of 47 officers were shot.

The foreign secretary said that the German note in reply to British representations said that the number of mass escapes by war prisoners in Germany during March involved several thousand captives.

The German note, Eden said, claims that the mass escapes were "systematically prepared partly by the general staff of the Allies for both military and political objectives."

This situation, according to the Germans, endangered the public security of the Reich.

"His majesty's government," Eden went on, "is resolved that the foul criminals responsible shall be tracked down to the last man wherever he may be when the war is over and brought to exemplary justice."

Eden said that the Nazi Gestapo had carried out the executions of the R. A. F. airmen, all of whom were officers of European Allied nationality.

Recent reports indicate that 25,000,000 tires are being replaced per year.

Pedestrians Victims In Traffic Accidents

Apparently it's safer to be riding in a car than to be walking in front of one, according to statistics released by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Highway Safety.

Also according to the figures, the rural areas are becoming more dangerous. During the first four months of 1944 the total number of fatal traffic accidents came to 398, with an increase of 12 per cent in the rural area over the same period of 1943. In the urban areas there was a decrease of 9.8 per cent.

Over 56 per cent of the accidents in the January-April period were pedestrians. Altogether, there were four more deaths than for the same period of 1943. Schuylkill county leads in the increase of fatalities, while Philadelphia county leads in the decrease.

Scouts To Distribute Ceiling Price Lists

Boy Scouts are distributing retail ceiling prices for meats and OPA community ceiling prices for groceries to housewives all over the city beginning today, according to a Price Panel Board announcement. Attacks Cause of ATHLETE'S FOOT
Athlete's Foot is caused by a fungus that grows in the skin, like a weed, in a garden. Some athlete's foot remedies do as much damage to the skin as to the fungus. They act by peeling the skin to reach the fungus. But—this 2-bottle method—brings quick relief because it attacks the fungus actually responsible for the condition. ## Nomination For Vice President G. O. P. Problem

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, June 23—The few undeciphered riddles of the Dewey-minded Republican convention were reduced to non-entities today as the G. O. P. platform committee met to receive formally its foreign policy plank.

The foreign policy proposal, declaring for "organized international cooperation" but against "joining a world state" was to be laid before the full resolutions committee by Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan.

Fundamentally a "rewrite" of the 1943 Mackinac declaration which leaves open the question of an international police force, the recommended draft from the party's post-war advisory council was expected to be adopted without revision. Leaders indicated it has the approval of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, whose presidential nomination next week was a foregone conclusion in their minds.

Only Question

With the submission of the foreign policy plank, only the question of a vice presidential candidate remained unsettled.

The platform deliberations, however, shelved candidate interest only temporarily. Publication of the foreign policy plank, highlights of which were first disclosed by International News Service yesterday, shifted attention briefly from the rushing Dewey tide.

So strong were signs of a speedy, if not a first ballot nomination for the New Yorker, that backers of Lieut. Com. Harold E. Stassen were reported considering a withdrawal of their candidate before the convention opens.

While Ohio's Gov. John W. Bricker personally asserted he had no intention of withdrawing and held a conviction he would not be "offered" second place on the G. O. P. ticket, the Dewey camp trotted out an imposing list of "volunteer" Dewey workers from some 23 Republican delegations, outside of New York.

Pennsylvania, with 70 delegates, was not on the first list. But there was little doubt where the Keystone state stood. Its leaders have indicated more liking for Bricker but a determination to cast their votes for Dewey because they regard him as a stronger standard-bearer.

BRIEF NEWS OVER STATE

(International News Service)

NORRISTOWN—Fires for the fiscal year ending April 30 cost Norristown $12,825. Only two of 168 alarms sounded were false.

HARRISBURG—Price control has made things considerably easier for the farmer during World War II in comparison with the first war, the Harrisburg Office of Price Administration said. Overall, costing $2.63 during the first conflict, can now be purchased for $1.92 and boots, formerly $5, are now marked $3.86.

PLYMOUTH—One of those things that make life worth living happened to Mr. and Mrs. William Bolen whose young son had been reported missing in action while on a mission over Austria. They were at a Harveys Lake cottage when Staff Sgt. Merle Bolen walked in wearing rows of medals including the Purple Heart and the distinguished service cross.

PHILADELPHIA—The Quaker City's chief magistrate has helped another veteran who fell afoul of the law. Magistrate John J. O'Malley discharged Harry E. Wolf, 22, of North Wales, after he was arrested on charges of bilking a Philadelphia hotel of $26.86, then paid the bill.

HERSHEY—Golfers at the Hershey Country club lost a pet in a rip-roaring thunderstorm and it has caused them to wonder about the ability of members of the Anatidae family to handle themselves in water. When the rain stopped the golfers were unable to find a small mallard duck that had made its home in a water tank atop the club house.

Two Life-Guards At Cascade Park

With warm and possibly skin scoring weather not so far off, possibility exists that Cascade Park again will be crowded like it was last Sunday when more than 1,000 found relief from the sun's rays. Persons who permit their children to swim there are glad that there are two life-guards at the pool, the Misses Ellen Wadlinger and Betty Stritzinger. A guard is on duty at all times. The pool opens at 1:30 p. m. and closes at 9:30 p. m.

Because of evaporation cars in the south give less mileage than cars in the north.

Germans Appear Short Of Men In Cherbourg Battle

By CLARK LEE
U. S. Staff Correspondent

ON THE CHERBOURG FRONT, 10 A. M. June 23—American troops fought their way slowly forward in the hills commanding Cherbourg today.

The Yanks made progress ranging from a few yards to a half-mile during the night against the Germans' last man defense.

The Germans appeared to be short of men and ammunition and reportedly were throwing all spare troops into the line in an effort to prevent a final American breakthrough.

The Germans appear, however, determined to hold the fortress as long as possible, but the lack of heavy artillery fire from Nazi positions indicated they were conserving their ammunition.

Prisoners taken included some anti-aircraft regiment whose guns had been turned against the American infantry until their positions were overrun.

Among the towns on the outskirts of Cherbourg now in American hands are Haulucos, Hardinvast and also Flotte Manville Hague.

A number of things have been happening on the Cherbourg front recently and there was a bombing of strongpoints yesterday, but censorship has been killing almost all front line stories.

News Photographer Dies Suddenly As Assignment Ends

PITTSBURGH, June 23—(INS)—Soon after completing his assignment of covering the return home of Marine Lt. Mitchell Paige and greeting his own son, returned home on leave from the navy, Wellington C. Loeber, 48-year-old Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph photographer, died today of a heart attack.

While he was shooting pictures of the congressional medal of honor winner, Loeber complained of feeling ill, but insisted upon completing his task and developing his negatives.

While he finished what proved to be his last assignment, other members of his family welcomed his son, Yeoman Wellington C. Loeber, Jr., 18, home on his first leave from the South Pacific in 17 months.

The father, who won first honors among Hearst newspaper photographers in 1937 for a picture he took during the Johnstown steel strike was able to exchange a few words with the boy before succumbing. Loeber was the father of eight.

State Far Behind In Bond Sales

PHILADELPHIA, June 23—(INS)—War bond sales to individuals in the Fifth War Loan campaign passed the $100,000,000 mark with a record sale of $11,021,049 on Wednesday, but G. Ruhland Rebhann, Jr., state war finance committee chairman, today warned that greater effort is needed if Pennsylvania is to reach its $442,000,000 quota.

"With the first half of the drive nearly ended, Pennsylvania has sold less than one-fourth of its quota," Rebhann said. "Individual purchases must total an average of $17,000,000 daily if we are to reach our quota when the drive officially ends on July 8."

Wednesday's sales, including $4-111,800 series E bonds, brought the state total to $100,148,852, of which $54,664,875 represents E bond sales.

Congress Looks To Adjournment

Senate And House Calendars Virtually Clear Of "Must Legislation"

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
 (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 23—Both senate and house calendars were virtually clear of "must" legislation today as members of Congress strove for a "convention" recess lasting until August 1.

Leaders in both chambers gave assurances that all urgent legislation would be put through by night-fall, enabling senators and representatives to quit work during the Republican and Democratic political meetings in Chicago.

Only one major appropriation measure remained to be acted upon by both houses—the $245,728,992 second deficiency bill which, among other things, raised OPA's 1945 funds to the 182 million requested by the budget bureau.

The house also had to take up again the 49 billion dollar war department appropriation bill to finance the army's global military operations next year.

Iron Out Differences
 A conference committee of senators and representatives was scheduled to begin work at 10:30 A. M. to iron out differences in the second deficiency measure with no delay anticipated.

An effort may be made in the senate to pass the house-approved bill to exempt insurance companies from the anti-trust laws and assure their continued regulation by the states. It is not considered "must" legislation. The senate also may be asked to concur in house amendments on a bill giving foot soldiers on combat duty a maximum of $10 additional monthly pay for "efficiency" in their work, with $5 payments to qualifying infantrymen not in the front lines. The house also passed a bill giving glider borne troops 50 per cent additional "hazard bonuses."

The two chambers completed action yesterday on five big appropriation measures:
 Agriculture, 524 million; lend-lease, approximately four billion; labor-federal security, one billion 114 million; district of Columbia sixty-nine million; war agencies one billion.

Three Small Fires Occur Late Thursday

Three small fires occurred late Thursday. Assistant Fire Chief George Harper reported today. None were of any consequence.

At 2:05 o'clock Thursday afternoon, two companies were called to the Atkinson Paint and Glass company warehouse at 410 Sampson street, where some boys had set fire to rubbish outside the building.

Later in the afternoon, firemen were summoned to 204 S. Ray street, where the auto of George Tewer, of 204 South Ray street, was afire. The damage was small.

At 7:25 p. m., second ward firemen were called to 407 Hillcrest avenue, the message stating an auto was afire. Firemen could not find the auto when they arrived in that vicinity.

First outdoor demonstration of television was given on July 12, 1928.

Newspapermen Ask For More Freedom

DETROIT, June 23.—(INS)—Acting on a resolution adopted at the April meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, President John S. Knight today announced the names of 13 widely known newspapermen who will serve on a "committee on freedom of communications."

Knight said the first action of the editors would be to seek adoption of resolutions by the national political conventions calling for daily publication of news "free from the influence of self interest" of the real cause or motives for war.

"We believe and recognize that in war time there is urgent need for military censorship," Knight added, "but we do not believe that even in time of war there is need for political censorship."

Knight urged future agreements guaranteeing:
 1. Condemnation of peace time censorship and distortion and tainting of news and information.

 2. Equality of access in all countries by all properly accredited press and radio news men to news at its source.

3. Equality of access for all properly accredited press and radio representatives to transmission facilities, "which shall be adequate and shall promptly transmit news at reasonable rates."

Japanese Held Port Is Bombed

KANDY, Ceylon, June 23.—(INS)—An attack by allied naval planes, presumably carrier-based, against Japanese-held Port Blair in the Andaman Islands, was announced today by official spokesmen at Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters.

Considerable damage was visited upon military installations, workshops, a seaplane base and a motor torpedo boat yard during the assault, carried out last Wednesday morning, the official statement said.

GREENSBORO WOMEN

BUY GENUINE NYLONS

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 23.—(INS)—Hundreds of bare-legged women began milling around the Greensboro post office early today—several hours before the announced time for the public sale of 5,000 pair of genuine nylon hose at standard prices.

U. S. Marshal Edney Ridge announced the almost non-existent highly-prized fancy leg dress for milady would be sold at ceiling prices ranging from a top of $1.65 for first down to $1 a pair for seconds.

Marshal Ridge conducted the sale under a federal court order directing disposition of the hose which Federal Judge J. J. Hayes said were stolen and later woven for black market sale.

Sergt. Davicki Is Given Air Medal

Col. LeRoy A. Walthall, commanding officer of March field, Calif., a Fourth Air Force installation, congratulated Staff Sgt. John J. Davicki, of New Castle, after pinning the coveted air medal on his breast.

The award was made for meritorious achievement in aerial flight from Feb. 28 to Aug. 11, 1943, in the air operations out of the Aleutians and North Kuriles. Sergeant Davicki and ten other combat air crewmen were honored at March field last week during a special retreat parade ceremony. His citation stated that the flights were made in land-based aircraft flown on long over-water missions against Jap installations.

Pirates Defeat Redlegs Twice

Pirates Club Cincinnati Hurlers For 26 Hits, Tobin Hurls Abbreviated No-Hitter

NEW YORK, June 23.—(INS)—The Brooklyn Dodgers had their revenge over the New York Giants today, virtually reversing the plating they had suffered at the Giants' hands and posting the imposing score of 10 to 3, mainly on 12 hits and Whit Wyatt's tight pitching.

There were two double-headers in the National league yesterday. The Pittsburgh Pirates won twice over the Cincinnati Reds, 9 to 4 and 7 to 5; but the Phillies and Boston Braves split, the Phils winning the opening 1 to 0 in 15 innings, then dropping the nightcap, 7 to 0.

The Pirates rolled up a total of 26 hits in their twin games. The Corsairs came from behind to win both contests, thus breaking a long streak of hitless innings in previous contests. They blasted 14 safeties in the first and 12 in the second.

Another No-Hitter

The Braves came back strong in the closing contest when Jim Tobin hung up his second no-hit game of the season and his club won 7 to 0 in five innings. Darkness halted the game.

In the American league, the New York Yankees, behind the four-hit pitching of Bill Zuber, blanked the Washington Senators, 4 to 0, thus taking three of the four-game series. The Boston Red Sox defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 4, in the first game of a two-day bill, but only after a 12-inning struggle, then dropped the curtain game, 3 to 2.

Seven unearned runs in the eighth inning gave the Chicago White Sox an easy 10-3 victory over the league-leading St. Louis Browns.

A double by Joe Oringo in the eighth inning gave the Detroit Tigers a 4 to 3 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

MORNING STROLL

Unless you're a gifted sleeper you don't remain in bed very late in the morning on the shore of a north woods lake. But once you're acclimated you compensate for this by setting into your bunk early, wooing Morpheus to the eerie cries of the loon, the hunting call of the great horned owl, and perhaps the stamping of a whitetail through the brush. The hum of countless insects outside the screened cabin window creates a background lullaby.

At daylight, 3:30 or 4 a.m. on a clear day, the tempo changes. Night prowlers and their quarry retire to the seclusion of the deeper woods and the twitterings, bickerings and chirpings of a variety of small birds constitute your alarm clock. So, when awakened I went for a stroll.

White-Throat "Speaks"

Surrounding the cabin were robins—not as plentiful as they are farther south in the farm regions—

This bar swallow's close relative of the tree swallow, and joins him in migratory flights.

vesper and other sparrows, shy flycatchers, and a pair of Baltimore Orioles. Some tree swallows were skimming here and there over the branches. From everywhere in the familiar notes of that ubiquitous apostle of the north, the white-throat.

Ah, What a Setting!

Wrens, among the earliest of the alarm-clockers, were twittering here and there. A lone cedar waxwing and what I believed to be a hermit thrush fluttered away ahead of us. Across the road, at the fringe of the black spruce swamp, a couple of Canada jays were getting ready to set up housekeeping. From an old spruce stump sounded the sledgehammer staccato of a pileated woodpecker. A pair of what appeared to be Holboell's grebes were busy themselves close to the springy shore of the boggy lake.

Pup Tackles "Porkie"

Incidentally, swarms of mosquitoes around the fringe of that muskeg pond, together with thoughts of breakfast, kept the pup and me on the move.

Back to the road again and out on our little dock. Small sunfish perch and sizable bass turned tail and darted away. I examined the minnow box, found many of the inmates dead, and resolved not to crowd them thereafter.

Up the shore of the lake a little way my pup (Captain) and I came upon a fat porkie making a meal of some water weeds. The pup was interested but I doubt whether he will know enough to leave Mr. Porcupine alone next time he meets him.

A female blue-winged teal winged away from the nest she had hidden somewhere in the grass along a marshy strip of shore.

LEADERS

	W.	L.	Pct.
Moose	12	3	.800
Johnson Bronze	12	3	.800

There you have it, fans, the standing between the pepper-hot rivals, Johnson Bronze and the Loyal Order of Moose. Mike Duffley's Rainey and Flintall proved too much yesterday for Fitz Rodenbaugh's Beatrice and Sargent. The latter pair fizzled along the route and in the third the Johnson Bronze pulled the cork and out popped three runs. It looks very much as though the team that gets the break in the remaining games of the first half will cop the much sought first half flag.

The Alcos who beat the International Machinists 10 to 4 yesterday and West Pittsburg may prove the undoing of either team.

The Alcos have apparently hit their stride—belatedly, to be sure—but a stride after all. The Alcos believe that when they play the Moose on Sunday at Lee avenue, Thornton's twirling may cause Mr. Rodenbaugh more gray hairs. The same is possible when the Alcos tackle the Johnson Bronze next Tuesday at Marshall field.

West Pittsburg, who beat Union Refracs 5-4 Thursday, has a reputation of turning up like a bad penny and nothing would suit Blackie Purno's workers better than to wallow the Moose next Thursday. All in all, with some postponed games yet to be played, one of which will find the Alcos battling the Johnson Bronze twice before the race ends, rivalry will deepen.

The Sunday schedule follows: Machinists vs. Union Refracs at E. & A. Moose vs. Alcos at Lee avenue and Shenango Pottery vs. West Pittsburg at West Pittsburg.

Presbyterians Are Headed For Title

No Stopping First Presbyterians In Dash For Church Golf League First Half Crown

It looks like the First Presbyterians are going to be the first-half champions of the New Castle Church golf league unless some team gets "pretty hot" some Thursday night at Castle Hills and knocks off the North Jefferson Streets.

The Presbyterians are out in front today with 17½ points, a lead over the closest rival, Harbor U. P., of three points and incidentally, these two teams tangle next week, which should prove interesting. Highland, Mahoning and the First Baptists are still in the fight and may stage a few upsets before the first half ends.

Results last night: First Presbyterians 4; Highland 2; Mahoning 3; Epworth 3; First U. P. 4; First Christians 1; Harbor U. P. 4; First Baptists 1.

Following is the standing of the league to date: First Presbyterians 17½; Harbor 14½; Highland 12; Mahoning 11½; First Baptists 11; Epworth 10½; First U. P. 10; First Christians 9½.

Medal honors were split five ways last night, with the following men shooting 38's for low cards: Ted Woodrow, Henry Broad, Ed. Mumford, Ed. Kramer, Bill Nunn; the following turned in 39's: Ed. Miller, L. A. Lautenschlager; 40's were shot by Elder Wallace, Ed. Long and Tom Baum.

Following is the schedule for Thursday, June 29:

Mahoning vs. First U. P.
First Presbyterians vs. Harbor U. P.
First Baptists vs. Highland U. P.
First Christians vs. Epworth.

New York State Solid For Dewey

NEW YORK, June 23.—(INS)—New York State's delegation to the Republican national committee was 100 per cent solid today for drafting Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

City Councilman Stanley M. Isaacs, the lone delegate holding out against Dewey, will not be able to attend the convention because of illness. His alternate, Mrs. Maillie Catenaccio, is expected to the New York governor's camp, who favored Wendell Willkie, suffered a heart attack.

Zivic Laughs At Odds On Battle

PITTSBURGH, June 23.—(INS)—Fritz Zivic, former welterweight champion today laughed at the odds of his countless followers that he won't be able to stand up under the battering fists of Tommy Bell, Youngstown's young Negro fighter, in their 10-round bout in Pittsburgh Monday night.

"So, the price is two to one against me, and everybody thinks that Bell is going to knock me out," the ex-champion said with a smile.

"Tell my friends not to worry too much about me. I'm in the army, but I'll borrow something from the Marines and say the 'situation will be well in hand'."

Dean Park Loses First Place Lead

Cozy Corners Moved Back Into First Place With Victory Over Rivals Last Night

After a brief sojourn in first place, Dean Park Dodgers, last year's champions in the American Legion Junior league, went back into second place, when Cozy Corners scored an easy victory at Dean Park Thursday evening, with Lefty Bill Andrews, the league's classiest hurler, holding Dean Park to four hits. Dean Park's first baseman, had three of these, including a homer, for double and single, and scored three of his team's four runs. Andrews fanned 12.

Campbell, who also hurls from the four side, was touched up for 15 bingles, eight of which were doubles, three of them contributed by Carvella. Baxter, Cozy Corner second baseman, had four hits, including a double. Davis, J. Zeigler and Jackson each had a single and double.

Although Pitcher Joepke held the North Hill Cardinals to two hits, the Wolverines barely eked out a win, scoring one in the seventh inning to break a 4-4 deadlock. Lefty play on the part of his teammates enabled the Cardinals to score four runs. Joepke fanned 12 batters in addition to allowing but two hits and deserved a shutout.

For the winners, Badurik hit a homer, Wasilewski a triple and Darzynkiewicz a double, while Pealus's triple was one of the two hits the Cardinals got.

The Fannins took a forfeit from the Cubs when the latter team failed to put in an appearance for their scheduled contest at Lehigh field.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Year ago today: Milo Candini won seventh straight when he beat the Yanks 8 to 0 in New York.

Lieut. Tom Ferry, who for a time, was attached to Deshon Army hospital at Butler, is now in Italy. S-Sergeant Frankie Moran and Pte. Russell Baxter intend to "tighten up" New Castle when the Big Fight is over Over There. Hank Soar, former star quarterback for the New York Giants is stationed at Camp Reynolds. Ralph Criswell is still attached to the Navy Shore Patrol at Norfolk. His two sons are in service, too. Lieut. enant Joe Solomon is in Italy. As yet Pvt. Gal Liberatori hasn't had a chance to get a baseball lesson from Joe Gordon because Joe hasn't yet played at Fort Sumner N. M.

Talking about the Pvt. Fritz Zivic vs. Tommy Bell fight Monday at Pittsburgh, the colored boy has been out of action for two months because of an injured arm. Not so long ago he flattened Maxie Berger Canadian, in a round. Since turning pro he has amassed 37 triumphs, 28 of which were kayoes. Before turning pro he was twice beaten by Frankie Moran, so the boys report. Regularity of army life may have been restful to Zivic and his supporters expect him to outbox the Youngstown boxer.

Sunday comes soon, likewise the Johnson Bronze Vets vs. Youngsters at Marshall field. If Bud Russell can play ball as good as he can fish, wow! Years ago Preston Fishery and Vito Ciarella were no pitching slouches. Mike Duffley himself, a veteran of many baseball campaigns, isn't taking the Old Timers lightly. Sergeant Jackie Cooper, medical administration, is stationed in Panama. Managers of every team in the City Baseball league tonight should forward to this office a correct record of their wins and losses. The first half ends June 29.

Boehm's Pekinese Wins At Wheeling

Member Of Lawrence County Kennel Club Wins Honors In Three Wheeling Shows

Members of the Lawrence County Kennel club at a meeting held in the "Y" offered congratulations to John Boehm, local Pekinese breeder, for his fine showing at Wheeling, W. Va., during three shows held last Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Tri-State Kennel association sponsored the shows at Wheeling, the association being made up of dog fanciers and breeders from Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio. Mr. Boehm had the best breed Pekinese at all three shows and now is half way through the championships. Mr. Boehm, who is no longer a young man, is greatly interested in dogs and one of the most ardent members of the Lawrence County Kennel club.

BEAGLE CLUB TO MEET SATURDAY

Shenango Valley Beagle club will hold its monthly meeting at the Ellwood City Rod and Gun club, located along the Ellwood City-Wampum highway, at eight p. m. Saturday, according to Robert J. Morrow, secretary.

The organization has been very busy during the past year and have staged several local trials at their course along Highland Heights. They also report that many good beagles here and that interest in the organization and its activities is perking up daily.

Umpires Will Meet Tonight

A meeting of the Lawrence County Umpires Association will be held at the "Y" tonight at 8 o'clock. It was announced. All members should be present as assignments will be made at the next few weeks to games for the next few weeks. W. Hill, is president of the association and will conduct the session.

Now With Yanks

HERSCHEL MARTIN, former Philadelphia outfielder, was procured from Milwaukee by the Yanks who sent Ed Levy to the Brewers in addition to cash. Martin, who played with the Phils in 1937-40, hit .345 in the minors. (Ins'l.)

Mercer Barn Burns; Cause Undiscovered

MERCER, June 23.—A large barn on the Frank Bagnall farm, Mercer-Sharon road, was razed by fire of an undetermined origin shortly before noon Thursday.

The barn was on the part of the farm managed by Bagnall's son, Robert, who was repairing the roof when the smoke was discovered.

The Mercer East End Fire department arrived in time to save two adjoining outbuildings from the flames. Mr. Bagnall said the building was covered by insurance and was empty except for a small quantity of hay.

BRONZE, MOOSE TIE IN CITY RACE

Johnson Bronze Blanks Loyal Moose
3 To 0 In Game On Thursday Evening

Johnson Bronze and the Loyal Order of Moose today were tied for the first half championship of the City Baseball race, the Bronze having won yesterday's game 3 to 0 at Marshall field. The first half ends June 29.

Raney started for the Bronze and Beatrice took the mound for the Moose. Raney gave way to Phil-tail and Beatrice's flinging was taken over by Sargent. The Bronze got eight hits and the Moose piled four.

Not an error was made and long distance hitting was seen. Only three batters were given free trips to first, Raney issuing one while Beatrice and Sargent each issued a complimentary walk.

The Bronze big moment came in the fifth and before the frame was ended the brass makers had shoved three men across the home plate which was plenty sufficient to tie up the race and dash the Moose hopes of an easy first half flag.

Williams Favored To Defeat Shans

All-Negro Ten-Rounder At Madison Square Garden Tonight Should Be Hard Fought

NEW YORK, June 23.—(INS)—Ike Williams, Trenton, N. J., light-weight, who is gunning for a crack at Juan Zurlita's N. B. A. title, was a heavy favorite today to defeat—possibly by a knockout—Cleo Shans, of Los Angeles, in their all-negro 10-round battle at Madison Square Garden tonight.

One of the hardest punches among the 135-pounders currently in the business, Williams was expected to rate a two to one choice to stretch his victory streak of seven, since being stopped by Bob Montgomery in January. Prior to that he had scored 32 straight wins.

Shans has won six in a row in 1944, but lacks the wallop that Williams will take into the ring.

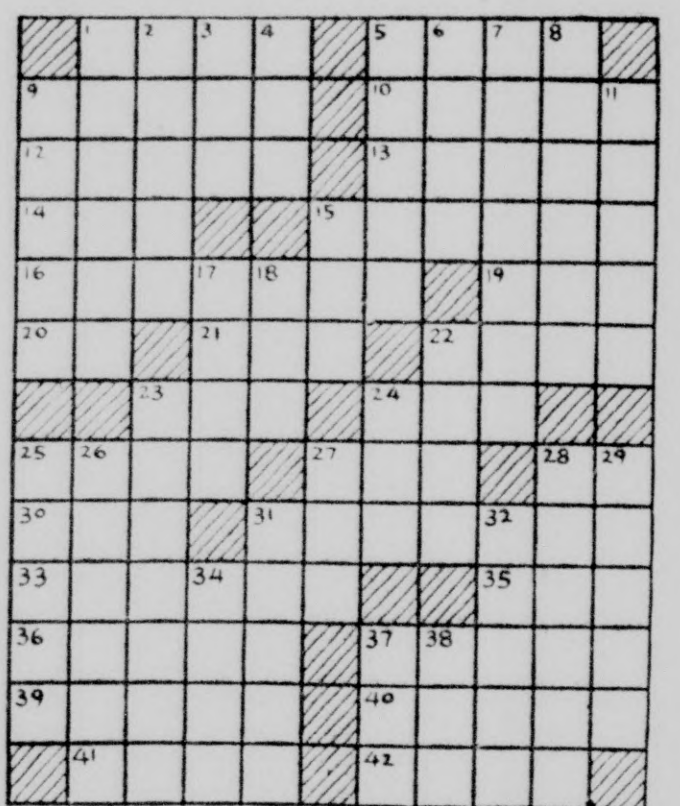

In his last start, Williams took a disputed decision over Sammy Angott. He also has won from Joe Peralta, handing him the first knockout of his career.

Night Turn Team Hangs Up Sixth

Night Turn I.A.M. Team Will Play
Twin-Bill At Edinburg
Sunday

The I. A. Machinists Night Turn team hung up its sixth win of the season Thursday morning at Marshall Field by nailing out the Johnson Bronze Night Turn team, 9 to 8. It was announced today. The I.A.M. team spotted the Bronzes six runs in the first inning.

"Dugan" Davies was the winning hurler, doing the chucking all the way and after a shaky first-inning settled down and flipped a masterful game for the Rubens-coached team.

The I. A. Machinists Night Turn team has won six and lost two games to date and have piled up the amazing total of 107 runs in eight games, the lowest tally being against Croton All-Stars.

Business Manager Art Dalglish of the Night Turn I.A.M. team has scheduled a double bill for the locals at Edinburg on Sunday afternoon, the first game starting at 1:30 o'clock. The Night Turners hope to upset the undefeated Edinburg Tigers. Hike will be on the knoll for the Tigers with Dugan Davies a likely starter in the first game for the locals.

Patty Berg Loses In Golf Tourney

CHICAGO, June 23.—(INS)—The Women's Western Open Golf tournament at the Park Ridge Country club was reduced today to the four players of the semi-finals, with Lt. Patty Berg of Minneapolis the most notable absentee.

Mrs. Mildred Didrikson Zaharias, the country's No. 1 woman athlete and three-time college girls' winner, was eliminated in dramatic fashion in the quarter-final play by Betty Jane Haemerle, 18-year-old sophomore in Fort Bonnie college, St. Louis, 1 up on the 19th hole.

Miss Haemerle was opposed today by the formidable Mrs. Zaharias who had some trouble before disposing of Mrs. Alfred Becker of Englewood, N. J., 3 and 2, in the quarter-finals.

In today's other semi-final, Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia long-hitting Beaver college junior, was pitted against 20-year-old Jeanne Cline of Bloomington, Ill., a junior at Rollins college in Florida. Miss Germain, Western amateur champion, ousted Georgia Taintor of Fargo, N. D., 4 and 3, in the quarter-finals.

What good the deal completed Tuesday will do is problematical, but seems to have established beyond further rebuttal that Outfielder Ed Levy won't ever be a major leaguer hard as he has tried to make it. Speaking of Beach heads

Wherever there are beaches that Americans can get to, children are having fun building castles of sand. Elsewhere in the world American fighting men are storming beach heads so that they may come home and build the castles of their dreams.

Your extra bond will play a very important part in connection with these two different kinds of beaches. Your money is needed so that our fighting men on the beach heads, who are being asked to give a lot more than money, can keep the beaches of this country free from barbed wire, fox holes and enemy strafing planes.

Your extra bond will help make beach heads safer for our fighting men . . . and safe forever for our children.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, June 23.—The desperate New York Yankees have reached into the minors and come up with a Philadelphia Philly cast-off in a frantic move to avert the disaster of a finish deep in the second division of the American League. The world champions have sunk to the depths that in the past was regarded as some never-never land they were certain they would never visit. They stand as a pretty terrible ball club at this moment, but may get going yet if Manager Joe McCarthy can inject some hustle into a few of the laggards.

What good the deal completed Tuesday will do is problematical, but seems to have established beyond further rebuttal that Outfielder Ed Levy won't ever be a major leaguer hard as he has tried to make it. He was sent to Milwaukee with cash for Harshel Martin, who outfielder for the Phillies from 1937 to 1940 and one year enjoyed a peak batting average of .298.

Martin Hitting Good

At the moment he is hitting around .345 against the fat minor league hurling. However, Levy was hitting only .247 for the Yanks when he was cast drift Tuesday, so any chance in the situation is almost certain to be for the better.

The main thing wrong with the Yanks—aside from a reported lack of hustle—is poor pitching and such amateur fielding that you wouldn't know it was the Yanks if you didn't sit there and watch them. They're not hitting either. Hitless Yankees is some kind of a freak thing scarcely ever has been seen in this generation, or for years any way.

Levy, who has been in the majors before only to fail, was expected to give the Yanks some badly needed oomph at the plate, but even against war-time pitching couldn't fill the situation.

About the Yankee hitting: They are hitting no better than the weakest clubs in the league and are hitting fewer home runs than any Yankee team since they first came into power back in the 1920s.

Yanks Caught Short

If this piece sounds like a lot of railing against the champions, it isn't meant that way, nor I hope, is Levy being unduly criticized. It just so happens that what with one thing another due to the war the Yanks have been caught short like so many of the rest. As for Levy, he's a hard trier but below par, according to major league standards.

All of this is reported at some length mainly because this looks like the payoff on the Yankees—one way or the other. Unless they find themselves rather abruptly there will be another club heading the American League standings come October.

Phillies Are Feuding

Elsewhere along the baseball front we find that, besides Cleveland, the Philadelphia Phillies are feuding among themselves. This latest uprising is supposed to be centering around two or three players and may be whipped down suddenly inasmuch as General Manager

Herb Pennock has announced that he is supporting Manager Fred Fitzsimmons.

The Phillies have slumped down near the bottom, as usual, and reportedly are taking their plight out on each other.

Their difficulties of last year, culminating in the expulsion of Bill Cox from organized baseball, seems to have left a hangover.

Chinese along the Burma road relish bees as a delicacy.

BOY CUTS FINGER

Don Bates, 1012 Beckford street, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning for a laceration of the left index finger.

Why do they call them "lumping toothaches"? Maybe because they make you feel like lumping up and down. If there's a cavity, moisten a small piece of cotton with oil of cloves and apply. Then see your dentist.

Roosevelt Still Wants Wallace

Friends Say He Is Insisting On Vice President As Running Mate Again

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Roosevelt's friends say today that he is still insisting on having Vice President Henry A. Wallace as his running-mate in the fourth term race despite the combined protests of his own personal advisers and congressional leaders.

The White House circle of "inside advisers" and congressional leaders believe Wallace will cost Mr. Roosevelt many hundreds of thousands of votes. Consequently, they are urging that he take a regular Democrat or even a Republican—so long as Wallace is dropped from the 1944 ticket.

Interest in Mr. Roosevelt's running-mate increased after Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia emerged from a White House conference with the President to forecast a presidential statement on the fourth term question immediately after the Republican convention in Chicago next week. Arnall said Mr. Roosevelt would declare his willingness to be a fourth term nominee with Wallace as his running-mate.

Hope For Change

The presidential advisers and congressional leaders still hope to talk Mr. Roosevelt out of his present choice. Most of Wallace's opponents prefer Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, with scattered support for Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri, Sen. A. B. "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky, Sen. B. K. Wheeler of Montana, and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Consensus among Democratic "big-wigs" is that Mr. Roosevelt can get Wallace on the ticket if he really insists. They say there are three possibilities:

1. Nomination of Wallace if Mr. Roosevelt says "or else," as he did in 1940 when his spokesmen said he would decline the nomination if Wallace were not nominated.

2. Nomination of Barkley if Mr. Roosevelt says: "I want Wallace, but—"

3. Nomination of Barkley if Mr. Roosevelt says he will accept the convention's choice.

The handful of presidential advisers, said to be headed by Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, who favor a Republican as a fourth term running-mate for Mr. Roosevelt, are getting no support from congressional leaders. Capitol Democrats are scenting another Roosevelt victory with the war going well in Europe and in the Pacific. Consequently, congressional Democrats oppose giving away the second best political plum to a Republican—even at the loss of a "unity ticket" slogan.
